Proposal to the Senate Educational Policy Committee

PROPOSAL TITLE: Change name of department from Department of Human and Community Development to Department of Human Development and Family Studies

SPONSOR: Susan Silverberg Koerner, Professor and Head, Department of Human and Community Development, 333-3790, skoerner@illinois.edu.

COLLEGE CONTACT: Robert Hauser, Dean, College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences, 333-0460, r-hauser@illinois.edu.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

We are proposing to change the name of our department:
Current name: Department of Human and Community Development
Proposed name: Department of Human Development and Family Studies

JUSTIFICATION:

The Department of Human and Community Development represents a long tradition at Illinois and is part of a network of similar units at peer institutions across the country – all with Home Economics at their earliest roots. The Department at Illinois grew out of the School of Human Resources and Family Studies, a larger unit named in 1974 and organized (in 1978) with four divisions – Family and Consumer Economics, Food and Nutrition, Human Development and Family Ecology, and Textiles and Interior Design. The current name, Human and Community Development, came into being during the College’s re-organization in 1995. At that time, the School of Human Resources and Family Studies was dissolved and the Division of Human Development and Family Studies was combined with three other entities to create the Department of Human and Community Development (HCD). Notably, Department members at that time were not participants in the name selection.

The configuration of HCD has changed considerably since the 1990s re-organization. We no longer have Rural Sociology, Community Studies, Agricultural Communications, or Agricultural Education as components. Moreover, the “Community” portion of our departmental focus has greatly diminished. Today our faculty members focus primarily on human development (e.g., child/adolescent development, youth activism, childhood health and obesity, parent-child attachment relations) and/or family studies (e.g., couple dynamics, family violence, immigrant families, father involvement). Although community as a context of development is considered important across all these areas (e.g., the impact of neighborhood on parenting), community as the unit of analysis is typically not a focal point of study. The academic major that remains in our department is Human Development and Family Studies (HDFS). Indeed, all of our undergraduate and most of our graduate courses currently have the HDFS rubric (a few of our graduate courses are HCD – something that we are changing via a companion proposal that also requests a change in the name of our graduate degree). We believe that the time has come for our department to have a name that accurately reflects our identity: Human Development and Family Studies.

There are several compelling reasons for a name change to Human Development and Family Studies:

- We need a name that is a more accurate reflection of the work our faculty do (e.g., family issues and human development).
- We need a name that is consistent with our undergraduate major name (HDFS) and that is consistent with our undergraduate and graduate course rubric (HDFS).
- There is a current national dialog on the need for consistency in unit names for departments like ours. There were recently 2 panel discussions on the topic at the annual meetings of the National Council on Family Relations – one of the leading organizations in our field.
- Human Development and Family Studies (HDFS) is the most common (modal) name for departments like ours in the U.S. Most of our strongest peers/competitors have HDFS as their department name (e.g., Purdue University, Pennsylvania State University, University of Wisconsin, Michigan State University, University of Texas at Austin, Auburn University).
- Department name is the primary way that interested students find a graduate program, an academic major, and courses.
- Department name provides valuable information about department identity for job candidates when positions are open.

Several benefits would accrue from a name change to Human Development and Family Studies. It would:

- Greatly improve our ability to recruit graduate students searching for “family” training and/or a program whose identity is connected to a national cohort.
- Enhance our ability to recruit undergraduate majors, especially among entering freshmen and transfer students who are seeking a foundation in family issues.
- Increase our capacity to attract excellent and fitting applicants for faculty positions, especially those looking for positions in a recognizable disciplinary niche.
- Improve the comprehensibility and specificity of our identity for advancement and engagement purposes, decreasing misunderstandings that our focus is on community development activities.
- Avoid confusion for UIUC students and their advisors in other majors increasing our ability to attract students to our undergraduate courses.

We recognize that some costs would also be associated with the name change such as those related to changes in websites, stationery, business cards, marketing materials, and description of our curriculum. That said, and after careful consideration, we strongly believe that the benefits of the name change would far outweigh any associated costs.

BUDGETARY AND STAFF IMPLICATIONS:

1) Resources

- a. How does the unit intend to financially support this proposal?

Budgetary implications will be minimal. Any financial costs (e.g., new stationery, marketing materials) will be covered by departmental ICR funds.

- b. How will the unit create capacity or surplus to appropriately resource this program? If applicable, what functions or programs will the unit no longer support to create capacity?

No new functions or increased capacity will result from the name change.

- c. Will the unit need to seek campus or other external resources? If so, please provide a summary of the sources and an indication of the approved support.

No campus or other external resources will be needed.

- d. Please provide a letter of acknowledgment from the college that outlines the financial arrangements for the proposed program.

N/A

2) Resource Implications

- a. Please address the impact on faculty resources including the changes in numbers of faculty, class size, teaching loads, student-faculty ratios, etc.

The name change may lead to small increases in class enrollments.

- b. Please address the impact on course enrollment in other units and provide an explanation of discussions with representatives of those units.

None.

- c. Please address the impact on the University Library

None.

- d. Please address the impact on technology and space (e.g. computer use, laboratory use, equipment, etc.)

None.

For new degree programs only: 3-5 below - N/A

- 3) Briefly describe how this program will support the University's mission, focus, and/or current priorities. Include specific objectives and measurable outcomes that demonstrate the program's consistency with and centrality to that mission.
- 4) Please provide an analysis of the market demand for this degree program. What market indicators are driving this proposal? What type of employment outlook should these graduates expect? What resources will be provided to assist students with job placement?
- 5) If this is a proposed graduate program, please discuss the programs intended use of waivers. If the program is dependent on waivers, how will the unit compensate for lost tuition revenue?

DESIRED EFFECTIVE DATE: Spring 2015

STATEMENT FOR PROGRAMS OF STUDY CATALOG: (All proposals must include either a new or revised version of the entry in the Programs of Study Catalog, if applicable. Entries will be published as approved by the Senate. Future changes in the statement for Programs of Study Catalog which reflect changes in the curriculum, must go through the normal review process at the appropriate levels.)

Please see our companion proposal regarding graduate program.

CLEARANCES: (Clearances should include signatures and dates of approval. These signatures must appear on a separate sheet. If multiple departments or colleges are sponsoring the proposal, please add the appropriate signature lines below.)

- The department has 20 faculty members who are eligible to vote.
- Maria Rund sent out ballots via email to those faculty members on April 16, 2014. She sent a reminder email on April 21, 2014.
- The deadline for voting was April 23, 2014, 5:00 p.m.
- Maria received a total of 18 ballots (15 electronic, 3 paper).
- The votes were as follows: 16 YES; 2 ABSTAIN.

Our next step will be to send our name change proposal and documentation of our process (to include minutes of our department meeting discussions, emails documenting our voting process, the voting results) to the College for review before it goes any further. Angela Wiley (chair of DFAC) and I will work on this next step together.

We will keep you posted.

According to the recorder and my notes from the departmental meeting on 4/4/2014: there was a question about who could vote, to which I responded I have the voting list which includes all full appointment faculty, no visiting faculty or APs; regarding your question whether there should be consensus or majority, Dr. Koerner has checked the Departmental Bylaws and there is nothing to indicate one way or another.

If you approve the revised ballot (Robin already approved it) I will send the ballot out and will inform you and Robin of the results. I save the emails ballots on the respective electronic folder for the record for the elections committee to verify.

ACES Faculty Members,

I apologize for any confusion from my message below.

Per the ACES Bylaws, voting faculty are "...the faculty of the College refers to those who have the right to vote in College elections, to speak and vote in College faculty meetings, and to serve on elected and appointed College committees. The faculty consists of those who are tenured or receiving probationary credit toward tenure in any department in the college; and who have rank or title of professor, associate professor, or assistant professor."

Thank you.

Bob

Dear Wendy and Cara,

As you can see in the email thread below, the College of ASES has completed the secret-ballot vote re the proposal to change the name of the Department of Human and Community Development to the Department of Human Development and Family Studies. The results are as follows:

- There were a total of 65 votes cast. Of those, 66 were in support of the department name change and 2 were not in support.

The two emails requesting the College vote are attached (with the ballot included) as documentation of the College voting process.

With this, I believe that now I have provided you with all the additional information that you requested. Please let me know if you need anything in a different format -- (a) the vote, (b) the description of other UIUC "family" offerings (attached here again), or (c) the effect on graduate student degree name (attached here again). Otherwise, I will assume that our revised proposal is complete and will be viewed by the executive Committee of the Graduate College.

Many thanks!

Sue

Re: Graduate Major Name Change

Date: December 1, 2014

Attached are materials required for the Department of Human and Community Development's proposal to change its name to the Department of Human Development and Family Studies. Among these materials is a companion proposal to change the name of our graduate major to Human Development and Family Studies (with corrections in an Addendum, also included).

I am sending these materials to you because the companion proposal and addendum require review and approval by the Graduate College (denoted with a signature on the tagged page).

Once the companion proposal is approved by the Graduate College, we ask that the entire set of materials be forwarded to Provost's Office (Kristi Kuntz); that office will then submit the materials to the Senate for review.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns: skoerner@illinois.edu or 333-3790.

Thank you for your help in this process.
