PROPOSAL TITLE: Increase Number of Major Credits for the Bachelor of Social Work, (BSW), in the School of Social Work

BRIEF DESCRIPTION: Two major required courses were recently revised (SOCW 470 and 471) and combined with SOCW 472 into a single course. SOCW 470 Field Practicum (8 credits) and SOCW 471 Professional Practice Seminar II (4 credits) were required to be taken concurrently. SOCW 472 BSW Field Special Project (3 credits) was an additional companion course that students had the option of taking at the same time they were enrolled in SOCW 470 and 471. Most students elected to enroll in SOCW 470, 471, and 472 during the same semester. The recently approved SOCW 470 course revision combined the three courses into a single course for fifteen credits.

JUSTIFICATION: The rationale for integrating the three courses into a single course was to provide a more cohesive learning experience for students. By increasing the number of credits for SOCW 470, the change increases the number of major credits required for degree completion from 50 to 53 hours. The total number of credits required for degree completion remains unchanged at 120 hours.

Overview of Curriculum and Requirements

The purpose of undergraduate social work education at the School of Social Work is to provide a comprehensive educational experience for students that is grounded in a liberal arts tradition and prepares graduates for excellence in the areas of social work practice, policy, social engagement and leadership.

Upon degree completion, graduates will be prepared for entry into generalist social work practice, advanced standing in graduate social work education, and a multitude of career opportunities. These can include careers in communications, corrections, education, government, health care, human resources, law, non-profit organizations, religious studies, and public service. Obtaining an undergraduate degree in Social Work gives students the opportunity to pursue a License of Social Work (LSW). A BSW degree also makes students eligible to pursue Advanced Standing status in many masters of Social Work (MSW) programs. The advanced standing status enables BSW graduates to receive a MSW in only one year.

The focus of undergraduate curriculum delivery is through a student-centered strengths-based educational model that fosters student understanding by providing a challenging, yet supportive environment of high expectations that encourage the development of well-informed and engaged citizens.

Degree title: Bachelor of Social Work

The social work major prepares practitioners for generalist social work practice with individuals, groups, families and communities. The curriculum requires a minimum of 120 hours for graduation. Minimum required course work in the major equates to 53 course hours of core professional education, including 15 hours for an agency-based field practicum (internship) and seminar where students receive additional supervision and training 4 days per week for one semester.
