Program Description and JustificationJustification for proposal change:

The BFA in Photo is accepting its last class of students in fall of 2021, due to the FA 2020 development of a new Photography concentration within the BFA and BA in Studio Art. Due to this transition, the ARTD photography courses moved to the ARTS rubric and no longer populate in the academic catalog. Therefore, the new ARTS courses are added here as an 'OR' option to reflect both the old and new rubrics. This is informative for students who may have completed some ARTD and some ARTS courses to complete their degree requirements, or who may be using all of the new ARTS courses. A program deactivation for FA 22 will be submitted shortly after this FA 21 admin update is completed. All students in the BFA Photo curriculum will be supported to complete their degrees with these requirements, even while the program is in phasedown status for FA 22 and later.

Deb,

Yes, I can do this. Did it make sense how I included the OR?

I downloaded the program deactivation so I have those notes for fall 2020 to submit later. Can you revert it back for us please?

Thanks!

Well gosh

Do you think you could get through the minor revision of switching the courses for Fall 2021 through your college quickly? I would recommend we try that first and update this program for Fall 2021 before the deactivation.

Kathy will put it on the consent agenda because it really is just course changes and it could be done quickly on that part.

Then you could proceed with the deactivation for Fall 2022 without any issues.

Unless you are saying the current students in Fall 2021 would be confused if we change these courses now?

Hi Deb,

Art + Design is planning to deactivate the BFA in Photo for fall 2022. However, if you take a look at the catalog page (<http://catalog.illinois.edu/undergraduate/faa/photography-bfa/#degreerequirementstext>) because we deactivated the ARTD courses and made ARTS courses, you can't really see anything in the catalog. I was entering a draft of deactivation text in CIM-P and started thinking about how we could explain it. If you look in CIM-P, I entered the ARTS classes as "OR." We don't really want to submit a program revision with these courses, because the goal would be to get students to switch in the BFASA or BASA, Photo concentrations (keys 954 and 955).

What would be your recommendation for how we could clean it up for 21-22? We do have admitted freshman coming into the major this fall, even though they will actually be taking the ARTS courses to graduate. Their degree audit is set up to include the ARTS courses already. Maybe in the catalog text, we should just refer students to the degree audit?

Thank you!
