

PROPOSAL TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL POLICY

TITLE OF THE PROPOSAL:

AGRICULTURAL ACCOUNTING Concentration
Agricultural and Consumer Economics Major
Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics (ACE)

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

In the course of developing a new concentration (Financial Planning) that was approved by the UIUC Senate in Fall 2007, the Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics revamped several courses in order to serve a wider range of student interests. The course revisions have been approved by the College of ACES, the Office of the Provost, and the Graduate College (as required). Now, the Department is proposing to revise existing concentrations to recognize the new numbers and titles of required courses.

SPONSOR:

John B. Braden, Director of Undergraduate Programs, Department of ACE
jbb@uiuc.edu, 333-5501

JUSTIFICATION:

The revised courses will continue to meet the needs of students in the Agricultural Accounting concentration while also preparing students to pursue studies in the Financial Planning concentration. Approval of the proposed revisions to the Agricultural Accounting concentration will clarify and simplify course selection for students.

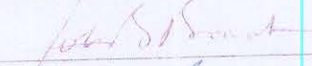

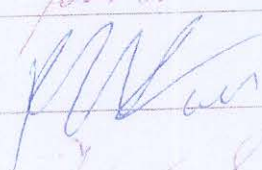

BUDGETARY AND STAFF IMPLICATIONS:

None

GUIDELINES FOR UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION:

The proposed revisions adhere to the 1972 "Academic Plan for the Urbana-Champaign Campus," current General Education requirements, and other campus and Colleges of ACES academic policies for undergraduates.

CLEARANCES:

Sponsor:  Date: 2/12/2008
Dep. Head:  Date: 2/18/08
Dean:  Date: 2-19-08

STATEMENT FOR PROGRAMS OF STUDY CATALOGUE:

None, other than the changes to the list of required courses for the concentration noted below.

Required for the Agricultural Accounting Concentration (in addition to departmental requirements)

Course		Old Course Number and Title
ACCY 202	Accounting & Accountancy II
ACCY 301	Accounting Measurement and Disclosure
ACCY 302	Decision Making for Accounting
ACCY 303	Accounting Institutions and Regulations
ACE 447*	Case Studies in Agricultural Accounting & Financial Planning†	ACE 441	Case Studies in Agricultural Accounting & Finance
FIN 221	Corporate Finance

† Revised course title

* Revised course number

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Fall 2008 or as soon as possible

PROPOSAL TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL POLICY

TITLE OF THE PROPOSAL:

AGRICULTURAL FINANCE Concentration
Agricultural and Consumer Economics Major
Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics (ACE)

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

In the course of developing a new concentration (Financial Planning) that was approved by the UIUC Senate in Fall 2007, the Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics revamped several courses in order to serve a wider range of student interests. The course revisions have been approved by the College of ACES, the Office of the Provost, and the Graduate College (as required). Now, the Department is proposing to revise existing concentrations to recognize the new numbers and titles of required courses.

SPONSOR:

John B. Braden, Director of Undergraduate Programs, Department of ACE
jbb@uiuc.edu, 333-5501

JUSTIFICATION:

The revised courses will continue to meet the needs of students in the Agricultural Finance concentration while also preparing students to pursue studies in the Financial Planning concentration. Approval of the proposed revisions to the Agricultural Finance concentration will clarify and simplify course selection for students.

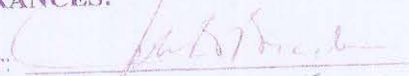

BUDGETARY AND STAFF IMPLICATIONS:

None

GUIDELINES FOR UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION:

The proposed revisions adhere to the 1972 "Academic Plan for the Urbana-Champaign Campus," current General Education requirements, and other campus and Colleges of ACES academic policies for undergraduates.

CLEARANCES:

Sponsor:

Date: 2/13/08

Dep. Head:

Date: 2/15/08

Dean:

Date: 2-19-08

STATEMENT FOR PROGRAMS OF STUDY CATALOGUE:

None, other than the changes to the list of required courses for the concentration noted below.

Required for the Agricultural Finance Concentration (in addition to departmental requirements)

Course		Old Course Number and Title
ACCY 202	Accounting & Accountancy II
ACE 345*	Financial Decision-Making for Individuals and Small Businesses†	ACE 340	Agricultural Finance
FIN 221	Corporate Finance
FIN 300	Financial Markets
Two courses from:
ACE 444*	Financial Services for Individuals and Small Businesses†	ACE 443	Intermediate Agricultural Finance
ACE 446*	Modeling Applications for Financial Planning†	ACE 442	Modeling Applications in Agricultural Finance
ACE 447*	Case Studies in Agricultural Accounting & Financial Planning†	ACE 441	Case Studies in Agricultural Accounting & Finance
FIN 311 [#]	Investments
FIN 461 [#]	Financial Intermediation

† Revised course title

* Revised course number

[#] Admission may be restricted by the Department of Finance; access for ACE majors cannot be assured.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Fall 2008 or as soon as possible

EP.08.53
(Rev. 3/11/08)

PROPOSAL TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL POLICY

TITLE OF THE PROPOSAL:

Revisions to the
CONSUMER ECONOMICS AND FINANCE Concentration
Agricultural and Consumer Economics Major
Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics (ACE)

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

In the course of developing a new concentration (Financial Planning) that was approved by the UIUC Senate in Fall 2007, the Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics revamped several courses in order to serve a wider range of student interests. The course revisions have been approved by the College of ACES, the Office of the Provost, and the Graduate College (as required). Now, the Department is proposing to revise existing concentrations to recognize the new numbers and titles of required courses.

SPONSOR:

John B. Braden, Director of Undergraduate Programs, Department of ACE
jbb@uiuc.edu, 333-5501

JUSTIFICATION:

The revised courses will continue to meet the needs of students in the Consumer Economics and Finance concentration while also preparing students to pursue studies in the Financial Planning concentration. Approval of the proposed revisions to the Consumer Economics and Finance concentration will clarify and simplify course selection for students.

BUDGETARY AND STAFF IMPLICATIONS:

None

GUIDELINES FOR UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION:

The proposed revisions adhere to the 1972 "Academic Plan for the Urbana-Champaign Campus," current General Education requirements, and other campus and Colleges of ACES academic policies for undergraduates.

CLEARANCES:

Sponsor:	[Signature]	Date:	2/13/08
Dep. Head:	[Signature]	Date:	2/18/08
Dean:	[Signature]	Date:	2-19-08

STATEMENT FOR PROGRAMS OF STUDY CATALOGUE:

None, other than the changes to the list of required courses for the concentration noted below.

Required for the Consumer Economics and Finance Concentration (in addition to departmental requirements)

Proposed		Old Course Numbers and Titles
ACE 240*	Personal Financial Planning†	ACE 245	Personal Finance
ACE 270	Consumer Economics
ACE 474	Economics of Consumption
ACE 476	Family Economics
Two courses from:
ACE 445	Intermediate Personal Financial Planning†	ACE 445	Financial Planning and Counseling
ACE 455	International Trade in Food and Agriculture
ACE 456	Agricultural and Food Policies
ACE 471	Consumer Economic Policy
ECON 440	Economics of Labor Markets
ECON 482	Health Economics
FIN 221	Corporate Finance

† Revised course title
 * Revised course number

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Fall 2008 or as soon as possible

EP08.53
(Rev. 3/11/08)

PROPOSAL TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL POLICY

TITLE OF THE PROPOSAL:

Revisions to the
FARM MANAGEMENT Concentration
Agricultural and Consumer Economics Major
Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics (ACE)

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

In the course of developing a new concentration (Financial Planning) that was approved by the UIUC Senate in Fall 2007, the Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics revamped several courses in order to serve a wider range of student interests. The course revisions have been approved by the College of ACES, the Office of the Provost, and the Graduate College (as required). Now, the Department is proposing to revise existing concentrations to recognize the new numbers and titles of required courses.

SPONSOR:

John B. Braden, Director of Undergraduate Programs, Department of ACE
jbb@uiuc.edu, 333-5501

JUSTIFICATION:

The revised courses will continue to meet the needs of students in the Farm Management concentration while also preparing students to pursue studies in the Financial Planning concentration. Approval of the proposed revisions to the Farm Management concentration will clarify and simplify course selection for students.

BUDGETARY AND STAFF IMPLICATIONS:

None

GUIDELINES FOR UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION:

The proposed revisions adhere to the 1972 "Academic Plan for the Urbana-Champaign Campus," current General Education requirements, and other campus and Colleges of ACES academic policies for undergraduates.

CLEARANCES:

Sponsor:		Date:	2/13/2008
Dep. Head:		Date:	2/15/08
Dean:		Date:	2-19-08

STATEMENT FOR PROGRAMS OF STUDY CATALOGUE:

None, other than the changes to the list of required courses for the concentration noted below.

REQUIREMENTS FOR FARM MANAGEMENT CONCENTRATION (in addition to other existing departmental requirements)

Course		Old Course Number and Title
Ace 222	Agricultural Marketing
ACE 232	Management of Farm Enterprises
ACE 332	Farm Management
ACE 345*	Financial Decision-Making for Individuals and Small Businesses†	ACE 340	Agricultural Finance
ACE 448	Rural Real Estate Appraisal

† Revised course title

* Revised course number

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Fall 2008 or as soon as possible